

THE PETER GILLES SPRINGER FELLOWSHIP FOR STUDY IN FRANCE

The Peter Gilles Springer Fellowship for Study in France is an annual award to support an outstanding graduate student from the following disciplines: French, History, or Political Science. The fellowship shall be used for the student's studies or research, in France only, and awards are based on both need and merit. The award amount for the summer of 2019 or the 2019-20 academic year is $1,500.00

It is expected that the recipient will make arrangements to visit the donor, Phyllis Springer Sipahioglu, in Paris.

I. Eligibility:

Any Master's or Ph.D. student from the departments of French, History, or Political Science who will be studying or conducting research in France during the summer of 2019 or during the 2019-2020 academic year.

Please note that you must show that you have financial need by submitting the free application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for the appropriate academic year (2018-19 for summer travel; 2019-20 for academic year travel)

II. Supporting Documents:

- A. A current vitae
- B. A description of the applicant's course of study or of the proposed research project or academic activities that the applicant will pursue while staying in France with justification that the work can only be carried out in France
- C. A letter of support from a faculty member in the applicant's department
- D. An unofficial transcript
- E. After returning from abroad, the applicant should report on their findings to their academic department.

III. Deadline and Application Procedure:

Deadline: May 17, 2019 at 11:59 p.m.
