Meeting to determine priority list of candidates to bring to campus for interviews in the American Politics and Policy Search

The search committee, composed of Christina Bejarano and Patrick Miller, Chaired by Mark Joslyn, recommended a list of candidates to bring to campus based on telephone interviews with a short list of candidates from the pool of more than 130 applicants.

After a discussion of the committee recommendations and faculty discussion of candidates on the short list approval voting commenced for the short list of 12 candidates.

From that list four candidates achieved more than 50 percent of the vote and were approved for campus visits.

In no particular order these candidates were

Birkhead
Kalaf-Hughes
Mullinix
Russell

The faculty voted to bring in all four candidates with the department funding the visit of the fourth candidate, designated as Birkhead.

Note: following arrangements for campus interviews Birkhead withdrew his application for the position.
